QUESTIONNAIRE: Forecast the Future
Dr. Tom Way
August 25, 2004

Description

In this course, you will be refining the skills and applying the knowledge you have gained up to this point in your college career (and before that, too). That’s about the past.

What happens after this semester? After next May? After that? That’s about the future... and that is what this assignment is about.

Analyzing one’s own goals for the future can often add focus to one’s efforts and boost one’s productivity. In other words, it’s always easier to get where you going when you have a general idea of where you’re headed!

Assignment

Email to me (thomas.way@villanova.edu) 3 paragraphs of approximately 80 words each describing what you see yourself doing, professionally, in the future. One paragraph should address 2 years from now, one should address 5 years from now, and one should address 20 years from now. Send as a plain text email (no attachments) with the subject “Future Plans”.

Due date: Tues. August 31, 2004
